RMIT UNIVERSITY

RMIT is a global university of technology, design and enterprise. One of Australia's original educational institutions founded in 1887, RMIT University now has 83,000 students.

The University enjoys an international reputation for excellence in professional and vocational education, applied and innovative research, and engagement with the needs of industry and the community.

RMIT has a 5-Star QS ranking for excellence in higher education and is ranked among the top 15 Australian universities in the 2016-17 QS World University Rankings.

Collaborating with industry to provide solutions, new ideas and processes that deliver real outcomes is an integral part of RMIT's teaching, learning and research. This approach means that when entering the international job market, RMIT graduates possess a broad knowledge base, industry-focused skills, and an ability to think critically and creatively.

The University was recognised for excellence in student employability and career development in the Victorian Government's 2015 International Education Awards, confirming its reputation for producing graduates who are highly valued by employers world-wide.

With three campuses in Melbourne, two in Vietnam, and a centre in Barcelona, RMIT is a truly global university. RMIT also offers programmes through partners in Asia and enjoys research and industry partnerships on every continent.

Singapore Institute of Management is RMIT's oldest and largest offshore partner. In 2017, we will be celebrating 30 years of partnership in education excellence.

School of Media and Communication

RMIT's School of Media and Communication is at the forefront of media and communication education, research and practice. The School is committed to building an internationally oriented, industry-relevant and intellectually vibrant community of students, educators, professional media-makers, creative practitioners and communication designers, so that our students will thrive in their chosen areas of expertise.

Industry and community connections have been a hallmark of RMIT's value system since the University's inception 130 years ago. The School of Media and Communication maintains this principle as a key to the success of our teaching programmes, the employability of our graduates and the impact of our research projects.

Our media connections reflect the variety of our programmes and discipline clusters. We have, for example, maintained a mutually beneficial relationship with a Melbourne broadcaster, Triple R, since the station's first transmission in 1976. We have a more recent but equally exciting relationship with SYN FM, operating from a studio situated on campus, and Channel 31.

The School's programmes are wide-ranging but are all focused on making meaning in the contemporary world. They include Communication Design, Games Design, Animation, Music Industry, Screen, Media, Photography, Creative Writing, Public Relations, Journalism, Advertising and Professional Communication. All our programmes are among the most highly sought-after in Australia.

RMIT University's flagship Bachelor of Communication (Professional Communication) degree has attracted international students since the early 1990s.

The School of Media and Communication prepares students to become leaders in the global media and communication industry. Our alumni work in prominent positions in Asia, US, Europe and Australia, and many of our graduates play key roles in business, government and non-governmental organisations at national, regional and international arenas.

RMIT's communication programmes integrate the skills that industry requires with a flexible approach to the technologies which allow information delivery to be increasingly immediate, sophisticated and accessible. Our teaching practices provide students with opportunities to learn by doing in an authentic workplace environment, guided by academic staff who are also leading industry practitioners.

Our specialised expertise in media, journalism, film, television and public relations puts us at the forefront of the new media landscape. Our students and graduates have won national and international awards in photography, advertising, journalism, public relations, communication design and media.

Students and staff are engaged in meaningful, leading-edge international research and education that aims to understand and solve real-world issues through media and communication.

By launching the Bachelor of Communication (Professional Communication) at SIM Global Education, we continue our tradition of providing students with a professional education experience that offers them a clear pathway into the communication professions.

RMIT's numerous engagements with universities world-wide will enhance our new offering in Singapore. As an international university of technology, design and enterprise, RMIT's global connections will provide an international experience to every student's learning and development.

In the Professional strand, you will undertake foundation modules in advertising, journalism, media and public relations. You will then complete specialist modules in the areas of advertising and public relations. In the Contextual strand, you will undertake a sequence of modules in the humanities discipline Asian Media and Culture. These modules will assist you to develop an understanding of the application of media and communication in a socio-cultural context.

The programme has been designed to prepare you to work in professional communication in an international context. You will demonstrate a collaborative and professionally informed approach to your work.

As a graduate of this programme, you will be able to:

- Critically analyse and apply a diverse and industry relevant body of knowledge and skills to the field of media and communication in a global context.
- Plan, produce and evaluate innovative content, optimising uses of technology that meets the needs of diverse stakeholders in an international environment.
- Critically analyse, synthesise and reflect on professional communication in both local and international contexts.

- Demonstrate creativity, critical thinking and innovation when identifying and solving problems in diverse contexts within the professional communication field.
- Communicate using diverse formats and strategies to audiences within and external to your discipline.
- Work with others in a range of roles and contexts, demonstrating cultural, environmental and social awareness and ethical and reflective practice.
- Apply initiative and judgment in planning, problem solving and decision making in your practice or future study.
- Identify, evaluate and critically analyse cultural, historical and theoretical practices which contextualise your professional practice and further study.

Private Education Act

Under the Private Education Act, legislated in December 2009, a Council for Private Education was set up to regulate the private education industry in Singapore. From 03 October 2016, the Council for Private Education became part of a new statutory board - SkillsFuture Singapore (SSG). Under the new structure, the SSG Board appointed the Committee for Private Education (CPE) to carry out its functions and powers relating to private education under the Private Education Act.

All Private Education Institutions (PEIs) are required to comply with the regulations under the Act in order to continue operations.

Following are the requirements which Singapore Institute of Management Pte Ltd (SIM PL) has put in place:

PEI-Student Contract

CPE, in aiming to enhance the confidence of students and their parents in the quality of education in Singapore, has stipulated that all PEIs must sign a PEI-Student Contract with students. The contract sets out the terms and conditions governing the relationship between the student and PEI. SIM PL will honour all terms and conditions in the contract and in all communication materials.

Students may request for a copy of the PEI-Student Contract from SIM PL or view it on the CPE website (www.cpe.gov.sg).

Cooling-Off Period

There will be a cooling-off period of 7 working days after signing the PEI-Student Contract. Students have the right to cancel the contract within the 7 working days and be refunded the highest percentage of the fees already paid if the students submit written notice of withdrawal to SIM PL within the cooling off period (refer to Clause 2.3 of PEI-Student Contract). After the cooling-off period, SIM PL's refund policy will apply.

Fee Protection Scheme

SIM PL adopts a compulsory Fee Protection Scheme (FPS) to protect the paid fees of both local and international students. The FPS serves to protect the student's fees in the event that the PEI is unable to continue operations due to insolvency, and/or regulatory closure. In addition, the FPS protects the student if the PEI fails to pay penalties or return fees to the student arising from judgments made against it by the Singapore courts.

SIM PL has appointed Etiqa Insurance Pte. Ltd and Lonpac Insurance Bhd as our FPS insurance providers. Under the FPS insurance scheme, students' fees will be insured by the insurer pre-assigned by SIM PL. In case of events as stated above, students will be able to claim their paid fees from the respective FPS insurance provider.

More details of the FPS can also be found in the FPS Instruction Manual, available at www.cpe.gov.sg.

Medical Insurance

SIM PL has in place a group medical insurance scheme for all its students. This medical insurance scheme will have a minimum coverage as follows: an annual coverage limit of S$20,000 per student, covers up to B2 ward in government and restructured hospitals and provides for 24 hours coverage in Singapore and overseas (if student is involved in SIM PL-related activities) throughout the course duration.

For more information on medical insurance, visit: www.simge.edu.sg/ge/medicalinsurance.

Refund and Transfer/Withdrawal Policies

For refund and transfer/withdrawal policies, please refer to www.simge.edu.sg/ge/refund.

Confidentiality

SIM PL is committed to maintaining the confidentiality of the student's personal information and undertakes not to divulge any of the student's personal information to any third party without the prior written consent of the student SUBJECT TO the obligation of SIM PL to disclose to any Singapore government authority any information relating to the student in compliance with the law and/or to the organisation conferring/awarding the qualification.
